

Please add the abstract on a separate page numbered 8 as follows:

- - ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

This invention relates to a weighing module comprising a weighing cell incorporating strain gauges disposed between a lower platform connected to a body of the module and an upper platform connected to a weighing deck and immobilization means for immobilizing the weighing cell during transport of the module, these immobilization means comprising a first bracket fixed to the lower platform, a second bracket fixed to the upper platform and a single connection stud for fixedly connecting these two brackets.